

"Improving Productivity & Profits through Improved Safety, Security & Leadership"

FREE SEMINAR

6pm, February 8, 2012
Beachway Motel & Restaurant
1 Heathcote Street, Ulverstone

Learn how improving the safety and security of your business will improve your profit as well as reduce your risks.

This free, 2 hour seminar is designed to assist in understanding the effects, good safety, security and leadership have on the profitability businesses. It is ideally suited to business owners and managers of small and medium size enterprises involved in the retail, hospitality and manufacturing industries.

Drawing on the knowledge and skills of experienced and respected safety, security and management consultants, this is an opportunity to discover the astonishing real cost to businesses not having simple yet effective safety and security measures.

Those attending this seminar will also be surprised to find that many improvements have a negligible or even a zero dollar cost to implement.

"Now if we proceed downstairs, I'll continue with the profit chart."

Learn how effective, innovative and enthusiastic leadership can play a key role in the success and profitability of an enterprise, and how bad leadership can result in safety issues and security problems.

You will also find out how many improvements can and will result in increased productivity and profit.

To reserve your place, please email your business name, contact details and nature of business together with names and position of those wishing to attend to:

info@riskandtraining.com

Note: places are limited and early booking is essential to secure your place.

Sponsored by:

CORPORATE RISK
& TRAINING

"Providing local support and worldwide experience"

StreetwiseInnovation
Innovate • Learn • Grow